BEAUTY AND PERFORMANCE

Distinguished for its superb balance of lasting beauty, strength and sustainability, metal is recognized as a primary exterior material. Alside further elevates the allure of steel with distinctive, high-performance siding profiles that reduce the need for time-consuming maintenance.

Satinwood Steel provides a powerful shield for your home. From the searing heat of summer to the chilling winds of winter, Satinwood Steel offers superior protection and resists buckling that can result from expansion and contraction caused by extreme weather.

CREATING CUSTOM STYLE

Satinwood Steel Siding is available in five versatile profiles and eight architectural colors. Fused with a top coat of PVC, the low-gloss finish and subtle texture capture the warmth of freshly painted wood in a highly resilient steel panel that requires minimal upkeep.

Alside's ColorConnect® Color Matching Systems adds the ability to coordinate your siding with other Alside exterior products and accessories, including gable vents, corners posts and decorative trim found on America's most attractive homes.

STRUCTURAL INTEGRITY

Inherent steel strength ensures excellent durability.

IMPACT RESISTANT

Constructed of heavy-duty Galvalume AZ-50 steel for superior protection as well as hail and impact resistance.

NON-COMBUSTIBLE

Satinwood Steel Siding is a Class A fire rated, non-combustible product that meets even the most stringent building codes.
