

Dear Valued Customer,

Recent geopolitical events have driven significant turmoil in the resin and aluminum markets, resulting in escalating costs throughout the supply chain.

Siding

Costs are increasing in the siding market due to increases in resins and polymers. Polyvinyl and Polypropylene costs have increased by ~17% and ~42% respectively since late February. The Chemical Data Index has increased by ~7% since February. This has been driven by tightening supply conditions and shipment disruptions.

Metals (Aluminum and Steel)

The London Metal Exchange (LME) and Midwest Premium (MWP) have increased by ~17% since the announcement of our last increase in November, resulting in higher replacement costs in the aluminum supply chain, further compounded by rising freight expenses and disruptions in the fuel market.

As a result, our suppliers have implemented price increases, and Alside is adjusting its pricing, as outlined below:

Vendor	Brand/Product	Increase Amount	Effective Date
Associated Materials Innovations	Vinyl Siding, Soffit, and Accessories	5%	5/1/2026
Associated Materials Innovations	ASCEND® Composite Cladding and Accessories	5%	5/1/2026
Associated Materials Innovations	All Aluminum and Steel Products*	15%	5/1/2026

*Gutter coil is exempt from adjustment and will continue to be priced monthly

We recognize numerous price changes cause disruption to your business. We’ve worked to absorb and manage costs where possible, and this change ensures we can continue to invest in the inventory, service, and support that are critical to our customers’ success. While this is our second adjustment in recent months, we are committed to maintaining a strong value position within the market.

- Key Details:
- Price adjustments will vary by product category.
 - For specific details, please contact your local Alside branch or sales representative.
 - To maintain service levels, Alside reserves the right to limit order quantities.

At Alside, we remain committed to providing value through our broad range of products and services. We appreciate both your support and your business.

Sincerely,

Melissa Miniham
Chief Commercial Officer

